Employment record

2017 - Present

Researcher at the sector of labour and knowledge of the CPB Netherlands Bureau for Economic Policy Analysis (Dutch name: Centraal Planbureau), The Hague, the Netherlands.

Tasks: contributions to the labour market outlook for the Netherlands. Forecasting, programming, drafting. Yearly publications about short-term prospects include Centraal Economisch Plan and Macro-Economische Verkenning. In addition, the CPB makes long-term forecasts of labour supply. Apart from forecasting I take part in policy-oriented research related to the labour market.

2006 – 2017

Researcher at the sector of macroeconomics of the CPB Netherlands Bureau for Economic Policy Analysis The Hague, the Netherlands.

Tasks: contributions to the international economic outlook; forecasting, programming, drafting. Project leader of the CPB World Trade Monitor and member of the scientific committee of Euroframe, a joint platform of ten independent research institutes in the European Union that work on macroeconomic analysis and forecasting.

2001 - 2006

Researcher at the sector of regional economics of the CPB Netherlands Bureau for Economic Policy Analysis, The Hague, the Netherlands.

Tasks: policy-oriented research on physical aspects of the Dutch economy, such as firms' demand for space, infrastructural projects (cost-benefit analysis), and the housing market.

1997 - 2000

Especialista senior for Proyecto Sistema de Indicadores Sociales y Análisis de Políticas Sociales at the Instituto Nacional de Estadística, La Paz, Bolivia.

This project, jointly financed by the Inter-American Development Bank and the Dutch government, aimed at providing systematic information about poverty, basic needs, and regional patterns of inequality in Bolivia.

Tasks: designing a database application for compiling integrated national accounts, including a Social Accounting Matrix; training local staff in the use of this software.

1992 - 1996

In the course of time, assistant-expert, input-output expert, and national accounts expert for the Project on Improvement of National Accounts Statistics at the Federal Bureau of Statistics, Islamabad, Pakistan.

Organized as a programme of cooperation between the Dutch government and the Federal Bureau of Statistics in Islamabad, this project aimed at establishing a regular cycle of integrated national accounts for Pakistan, at the time based on the methodology of the 1993 UN System of National Accounts. The project was carried out by the Institute of Social Studies Advisory Service in The Hague.

Tasks: supervising the compilation of the Supply and Use Tables and the Integrated Economic Accounts for Pakistan; software development; training local staff in the application of national accounts concepts and the use of software; preparing handbooks on the compilation of Supply and Use Tables and the compilation of Integrated Economic Accounts in Pakistan.

1992

Assistant-researcher at the department of development economics, Erasmus University, Rotterdam, the Netherlands.

Task: processing and analysing survey data as part of a study into regional income distribution and inequality in Pakistan.

1991

Assistant-lecturer at the department of macroeconomics of the Erasmus University, Rotterdam, the Netherlands.

At the CPB, I have co-authored the following publications:

Bedrijfslocatiemonitor. Opzet en recente aanpassingen, CPB 2002, ISBN 90-5833-092-3.

Bedrijfslocatiemonitor. De vraag naar ruimte voor economische activiteit tot 2020, CPB 2005, ISBN 90-5833-243-8.

These publications were part of a research project focussed on firms' demand for space in the Netherlands. The project meant to facilitate public and private sector decision-making in the field of land policy by providing long-term forecasts of firms' demand for land and office space.

Kengetallen kosten-batenanalyse project Zuidas Amsterdam, CPB 2003, ISBN 90-5833-151-2.

This study is a cost-benefit analysis of the Amsterdam South-Axis project, an integrated programme of urban and infrastructural development to be realized in the south part of Amsterdam.

Kosten-batenanalyse voor Ruimte voor de Rivier, deel 2. Kosteneffectiviteit van maatregelen en pakketten, CPB 2005, ISBN 90-5833-213-6.

This study is a part of a more comprehensive cost-benefit analysis of measures against flooding of the river Rhine. It develops a method for evaluating the cost-effectiveness of measures that are meant to achieve multiple goals.

Hervorming van de fiscale behandeling van de eigen woning: gevolgen voor de woningmarkt, CPB document nr 128, 2006, ISBN 90-5833-291-8.

This study is about the fiscal treatment of home-ownership in the Netherlands, where mortgage interest charges are tax deductible. A model of the housing market is developed to analyse the effects of fiscal reform on house prices and the consumption of housing services by owner-occupiers.

Global trade in reverse gear, chapter 3 of The great recession. The CPB about the credit crisis, CPB September 2009, ISBN 978-94-600-3224-0.
